Interested in learning about turning your yard and kitchen waste into compost for your garden and yard? Come to this Masters Touch Class sponsored by the Lubbock Master Gardeners Association.

Arla Loter and two gardening friends began composting 11 years ago. Since that beginning she has seen the results in her garden. What she "cooks" is a gourmet meal for her plants. Her talk will walk you from choosing your composting site to the seeing the final results your garden will love.

Fee: $10 payable at the door
